As you may know I was shot in the chest in cold blood and left for dead. By a miracle, I survived to tell my story and how I overcame abuse. Reading my story, one will gain courage and the power to overcome similar situations and give hope to every woman trapped in an abusive relationship. Because of my horrific experience, I can sympathize and empathize with women that are currently being abused and have devoted my life to save the lives of others. Please help put an end to domestic violence. Call today!
